August 2012

Voiceover: Identity theft is a crime. ID thieves steal your good name, bilk billions of dollars from the economy, and strain the resources of law enforcement. Because of this, the Idaho Coalition Against Identity Theft is providing two half-day seminars for the general public regarding this ever-growing epidemic. This Thursday, August 16, get to the Nampa Civic Center between 8:30 a.m. and 12:00 noon. Topics covered include an overview of the crime of identity theft, a panel discussion of the impact on victims, and information regarding assisting victims of ID theft.

Voiceover: Then, on Thursday, August 30, another half-day seminar will be offered between 12:30 and 5:00 p.m. at the URS Building auditorium, 720 East Park Boulevard. Additional topics will include steps to take if your identity is stolen, tips to protect your identity, and an opportunity to ask questions of a panel of experts in the field.

Voiceover: To register for the Nampa seminar, call 454-2591. Or to register for the Boise seminar, please visit www.icaity.eventbrite.com.

Voiceover: Brought to you by the Idaho Coalition Against Identity Theft.
